Modern American politicians refer to "the founders" so often that they're in danger of becoming cliches. But Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, Abigail and John Adams, Alexander Hamilton, George Washington, James Madison, James Monroe, and the other authors included in this new collection were a wholly unique-and complex-group of individuals, graced with extraordinary intellectual powers, a profound dedication to their ideals, and a striking ability to articulate those ideals in clear and passionate prose. This originalanthology of their writings, many of them far less familiar to us than they should be, demonstrates the depth of their thinking-and of their disagreements. It covers the full range of events from 1773 to 1789: that is, from the early...
